‘our strong global network supporting your international logistics...every step of the way’

STOCKWELL INTERNATIONAL LOCATIONS

Message from our Founder

Our success in the transport industry over the past forty years is because of our commitment to excellence in providing comprehensive international logistic solutions to small and large businesses alike.

At the heart of our approach is the understanding that longstanding relationships are built on trust, respect and integrity.

Whatever your sphere of activity, you are sure to benefit from our experience as our staff will keep your business up to date in all areas of international cargo movement.

Brian Stockwell
Founder & Executive Chairman

THE COMPANY

Since our founding in 1971, Stockwell International has focused on building and refining its services to become the worldwide “total logistics provider” it is today. Stockwell’s foundation is based on an experienced team of professionals. We are known for delivering customised logistics solutions by utilising our intricate network of worldwide agents and advanced information systems.

With our focus on remaining at the forefront of technology advances in the industry, we are able to continually provide cost effective solutions with access to the most up-to-date cargo tracking technology available. We make it our duty to personally work with you our clients, to develop a logistics system that is flexible, but most importantly meets your company’s individual freight needs.

With our vast attention to detail and the flexibility we hold within the Australian market, we are proudly able to offer a “total logistics” service that has consistently exceeded the expectations of our worldwide clientele.

Regardless of Stockwell International’s global growth, the company and staff remain very much a family business committed to its customers. It is our guiding principle to continually improve our services and our pricing structure, so that you are confident of receiving the best that our company has to offer.

air freight division

At Stockwells, we understand the unique complexities and priorities that generally surround air freight. We have in place the specialist staffing, structure and worldwide network to offer our import and export clients a comprehensive range of air freight services that ensures all your air freight requirements can be handled efficiently, cost effectively and in the most timely manner possible, regardless of destination.

Stockwells will organise your air freight imports and exports as full or partial charters, specifically tailored to your needs. Our service spectrum also includes combined sea-air or air-sea loads. On your behalf, we will attend to all the formalities, including coordination of the entire door-to-door transport and customs clearance (as required).

SERVICES

- / Time and day definite services with door-to-door delivery to any location Australia-wide.
- / Medical, mining, refinery and oil gas exploration projects specialisation.
- / “Real time” reporting to assist with time-critical decisions.
- / 24-hour single point of contact provides our clients with unprecedented peace of mind.

SPECIAL SERVICES

For those shipments requiring special attention, we can tailor a solution to fit your needs. Our dedicated team of industry experts will advise you on the best solution for your business’ oversized or dangerous goods. We can manage and advise on any project work given the outline of what is required for future costing and time frames.

INDUSTRY SOLUTIONS

Stockwells has extensive experience in most vertical markets and offers tailored solutions for your particular market sector. Contact our team to see how we can make a difference to your airfreight logistics.
